Continuation of Substance of Interview including description of the general nature of what was agreed to if an agreement was reached, or any other comments:

Aty. Annemarie Dahm and Aty. Z. Dossa explained the novelty of the invention to the Examiner and how they felt the claim invention differs in the trigger to switch from privilege mode and non-privilege mode according to prior art used (Glew). The claimed invention comprises a method to "request a memory address"; "receiving a memory access request to access a memory address"; "determination whether the memory address is in the privileged region of memory in response to a request"; and switching the system to privilege mode if the memory address is determined to be in the privileged region of memory. Examiner explained her perception of the present claimed invention and how the prior art does convey the present invention according to the recited claim language. Examiner further explained her interpretation of an "memory address", The Examiner also recommend to provide more clarity to the step of "determining whether the memory address is in the privileged region of the memory in response to the request". Therefore, further clarification is needed to clearly convey the present claimed invention.
